

WILDLIFE DIARY

2026

A year on Estonia’s live wildlife cameras the diary so far, to 13 November

MARFELDT · PHOTOGRAPHY

This diary belongs to the live cameras of Estonia

Every day of 2026 the cameras in the forests, on the bogs and by the nests kept watch. Whenever something moved, a picture was kept; a reader looked at it and wrote down what it saw. These are the pages of that year: the busy days and the quiet ones, who came by, the rare visitors, the northern lights and the snow.

The end of the diary so far

This diary wrote itself. Every day marfeldt.com watched Estonia’s public live wildlife cameras, kept the moments something moved, asked a picture reader what it saw and noted the rare visitors, the northern lights and the snow. The pictures are frames from those cameras and belong to their owners; the diary is a keepsake, not for sale.
